Karen Newball, Managing Director, Credit Risk

One of the best things that I like from BNY Mellon is the hybrid working environment.

This has helped me tremendously in balancing my career progression, as well as to have time for my kids at home, which is very important to me.

This is a great opportunity for anyone that wants to work at an organization that is global and international as BNY Mellon.

Having a hybrid working environment at BNY Mellon helped me as an employee to not only be as professional as I want, be efficient, be effective when I collaborate with my team, but also be the mother of my kids that I want when I am at home.
